A LAW CORPORATION

Dear Clients and Friends:

Re: Employment Practices Liability Insurance/Choice of Defense Counsel

2010 will be a year of increased litigation. Do you have the right to choose counsel pursuant to your Employment Practices Liability Insurance policy to protect your interests? Has our firm been designated as counsel or are we on the panel of your carrier? If not, our firm may not be able to assist you when you have a claim.

The tough economic times are not over and there will be a significant increase in employment disputes. We are seeing more Charges of Discrimination with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing, wage and hour audits by the U.S. Department of Labor and the California Division of Labor Standards Enforcement, wage and hour class actions and civil actions for wrongful termination. Our firm successfully defended our clients in 2009 including a defense verdict in a sexual harassment trial.

If you want our firm to represent and defend you, please be sure that you ask for our firm to be designated as defense counsel when you renew or purchase your policies. Tell your insurance broker that our firm is panel counsel for many carriers and has established good working relationships with others. We see the relationship between our clients and the insurance carrier as a partnership and not an adversarial relationship. As a result, if you ask for our firm at the time of renewal, it is likely that the carriers will agree. We accept the carrier's reasonable billing rates and litigation guidelines. We recommend that you give your broker a copy of this letter with a request that we be designated as counsel.

Also, be sure to discuss with your broker the availability for a wage and hour endorsement to cover your attorney's fees in the event of a wage and hour dispute or civil action. With the increase in class actions, you should explore this coverage.

Of course, if you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Very truly yours,

Alfred J. Landegger, Esq.

RULES OF DISCIPLINE

1. FAIRNESS. Ask yourself the following question: Is it fair to discipline this employee based upon the quality and quantity of the facts before you?
2. CONSISTENCY. In the past has the Company imposed the same discipline in similar situations?
3. UNIFORMITY. The Company has an employee handbook, so employees know what is to be expected of them and what the Market provides for them for benefits. As a supervisor you must promote the understanding of such policies to each employee.

Examples: Excessive absenteeism.
 Insubordination.
4. HONESTY. During discipline it is essential that you are candid and direct with the employee regarding performance and performance appraisals. Never tell any employee they are being laid off when performance is the real issue.
5. BE OBJECTIVE. To demonstrate validity and legality of actions.
6. FOLLOW RULES 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. Be in a position to demonstrate all of the above. Imagine yourself in the witness chair. This is what you want to portray to the judge or the jury.

 - c. Policy must apply to the defendant employer
 - d. Retaliatory terminations deemed to violate public policy
 - i. Termination because the employee refused to violate the law
 - ii. Termination because the employee was performing a statutory obligation
 - iii. Termination because the employee exercised a statutory right or privilege (Note: an employer may not demote, suspend, or discharge an employee for lawful conduct during non-working hours away from the employer's premises (Labor Code §96(k).))
