employment law related topics affecting Employers. In particular, the presenters will focus on questions that seem to be raised by our clients over and over again; including those sticky questions that keep causing employers problems and keep our client's HR staffs up late.

- Emphasis will be placed on questions our attorneys face in four general categories: Wage and Hour; Terminations; Employee Classifications; and, Leaves of Absence.

Submit your question! New in June, we are providing you with a question box on the registration page so that you can submit your own employment law questions for our presenters to review and potentially choose
